HUNTING THE WALRUS.

The Eskimo Takes Advantage of the Animal's Curiosity.

In his frail skinboat it is a difficult and dangerous task for the Eskimo to go out to sea forty to sixty miles and intercept the walrus as he passes on his migration into the Arctic.

One carcass will fill his boat, for it weighs from 1,000 to 3,000 pounds.

He hunts the walrus when they are lying asleep on the ice floes in bands from ten to several hundred. Death must be instantaneous, else with a few rolls of the peculiar lumbering, bump-ing movement (seen of the seal when ashore), he makes the few feet to the water and then is lost, as the walrus sufficient blubber and air to float. He has much natural curiosity, and if not scared by shots will come up close to your boat or the ice floe on which you are sitting, sniffing, snorting and rolling his eyes; with his gleaming, black and bristled snout he has an uncanny, goblin, monster-like appearance. A herd of fifty or sixty of them will come up on the ice, raise high out of the water to stare at you, then snort, spurt and disappear again, only to come up on the same spot and repeat the maneuver indefinitely. Taking advantage of this the Eskimos hide behind ice hummocks and throw a harpoon into one, then snub the tough sawhide line around an ice cake. He must perform come up to blow, and he is then killed with the rifle. The thick skin and the mass of blubber and meat beneath render him almost invulnerable—Pacific Monthly.

MAKE THEM LAUGH.

A Bachelor's Idea of the Way Children Should Be Trained.

"The people who don't have to do things can always do them better than the people who are obliged to do them," he said, the cynical bachelor. "If you want to know how to invest money, ask a fellow who has never had any to invest. I suppose it's the same with raising children. Nevertheless, I am fond of children, and never having had an opportunity of raising any of my own, I am critical about the way other people, more fortunate than

I, raise theirs.

"My brother has a youngster, a boy about six years old, and everything that kid wants he cries for. The minute he begins to cry he gets it, which, according to my reasoning, is all wrong.

"Why not make him laugh for it?
It's just as easy for a child to laugh as to cry, and it's far more healthful, besides being much more cheerful for the surrounding populace.

"I've tried the experiment with him, and it works like a charm. If I happen to have anything he wants, and he cries for it, I make fun of him. That isn't the way to get it, I say. 'Don't cry for it. Laugh for it!'

"It took only about two lessons for him to understand this, and you have no idea what a wonderful difference it has made in the disposition of that kid.

Still, I'm only an old bachelor, and I'm not supposed to know anything about such things."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Teek an Unfair Advantage.

Mrs. Dorkins - Yesterday I called Mrs. Grundage's attention to the fact that she had left the gate between our back yards open and that her chickens had come through and scratched up our flower beds, and she looked as if she would have liked to bite my head off. How foolish it is for people to get angry when you remind them that they have been careless about something they had no business to overlook!

Mr. Dorkins - I am glad to hear you say that, Maria. You won't mind if I mention that when I came home last night I found that you'd left both the back doors unlocked.

Mrs. Dorkins - Yes; you're always watching to see if you can catch me in some little fault, and it makes you perfectly happy when you do!—New York Tribune.

Something to Live For.

Three little girls were playing. The mother of one came into the room and engaged the children in conversation.

"Maria, what are you going to be when you grow up?" she asked.

"I am going to be a famous singer," she replied.

"And you, Susie, what are you to be?"

"Oh, I am going to write stories when I grow up," she answered.

"And what is Marjorie to be?" continued the mother.

Marjorie, aged five, thought seriously a moment, and then said, "Well, I am not sure, but I think I'll be a widow."

She Was Different.

"John," asked his wife, who was writing to one of her former schoolmates, "which is proper—to say, 'I differ from you' or 'I differ with you'?"

derstand that she lets her husband keep part of his money to have fun with himself."—Chicago Record-Her-

TESTING FIRE CLAY.

The Most Practical Method Is to Literally Eat It.

Fire clay has been in use for centuries, and yet I believe the industry is one which lacks definite laws more than any other, including those which are either modern or ancient and of less prominence. You can go to a manufacturer of steel and specify what you want by actual figures or statements and you can check the product by chemical analysis or mechanical tests and thus make sure you get what you need. The producer knows how to combine certain elements and what quantities of various kinds to combine in order to get a result at least very closely approaching what you call for, but not so in the fire clay business. In the past the most skilled and highest paid chemists have been employed to make tests, to promote and carry through investigations on the natural product and to study the workings of articles manufactured and elaborate articles derived therefrom. The result has been, generally speaking, confusion worse confounded. Two professors, working at similar times on brick or clay obtained from the same source and manufactured under exactly equal conditions have recorded diametrically opposed conclusions! The same scientists at different periods have reached vastly varying conclusions when testing identical qualities and shapes of bricks, so can you wonder if a prominent fire clay manufacturer should exclaim, as I heard one on an occasion after having the above experience, "All tests of fire clay are empirical, and I would sooner trust our superintendent to pick and select his clays in the old fashioned way than pay a high fee for a highbrow's recommendations?"

The chief method of testing fire clay by a practical man is literally to eat it.
He can detect grit and sand best by that method, and a good fire clay (free from silica, quartzite or flint clay) is free from grit. His only other personal test is by experiment.—Engineering Magazine.

A CHINESE BANQUET.

Culinary Mysteries That Bowed an Englishwoman.

One moment we were eating ducks' eggs whose blackened, thin flavored whites indicated that their age was unimpeachable; the next we were grappling with sea weeds, macaroni and the slippery sharks' fins that eluded our clumsily manipulated sticks. Now we tackled—not without fear—unknown meats and vegetables soaked in sugar, fresh shrimps, mushrooms from Mongolia, young bamboo sprouts, pigeons' eggs and a hundred different foreign fastidiously. Then clean plates were given to us, and bowls of sickly pink slugs, snails, potatoes and Indian corn cakes of dusky hue were set before each one. These were only cervece fillers and concluded the first and lighter portion of the repast. Now came the real substantial meal, wherein every dish had an accompaniment of smaller ones, containing gravies, etc., in which to dip the morsel taken from the central bowl.

There was stewed duck cooked without salt, roast sucking pig, forcemeat balls and chicken; there were soups of birds' nest, of mushroom, of vegetables and of sea slugs. There were grilled fresh water fish, which, according to custom, was helped from the top side only, for the Chinese remembers his servant. And, finally, at the conclusion the inevitable small bowl of rice and rice water was set before each person.

After some three hours, with a feeling of thankfulness that all was over, pipes, cigarettes and tea were served, and it seemed to me that the delicious aroma which rose from the latter soothed our senses and almost dispelled the antipathy that had been growing on us for all things Chinese.— Mary Moore in London Express.

The Kind Needed.

"Dear me," said the first young woman, taking her initial lesson in golf, "what shall I do now? This ball is in a hole!"

"Well, let me see," said her companion, rapidly turning the leaves of a book of instructions. "I presume you will have to take a stick of the right shape to get it out."

"Oh, yes, of course," was the somewhat cynical reply. "Well, see if you can find one shaped like a dustpan and brush."—New York Tribune.

Kissing in Iceland.

Among old time laws against kissing those of Iceland appear to have been the most severe. Banishment was the penalty laid down for kissing another man's wife, either with or without her consent. The same punishment was enforced for kissing an unmarried woman against her will; if it could be proved that she had consented to be kissed the offender was still liable to a fine of a great quantity of cloth for each offense.

A Startling Reply.

An English country bookseller sent to London for a copy of a book called "Happy Husbands." The work was out of print, but the wholesale agent certainly might have intimated the fact differently. He replied that there are no "Happy Husbands" in London.—London Tit-Bits.

ANIMALS THAT WEEP.

Dugong Tears Preserved by the Ma-lays as a Love Charm.

While the act of laughing may be peculiar to man, the same is not true of weeping, which, if we are to accept the testimony of a French naturalist, is a manifestation of emotion that is met with in diverse animals.

It is said that the creatures that weep most easily are the ruminants, with whom the act is so well known that it has given rise to trivial but accurate expression, "to weep like a calf." All hunters know that the stag weeps, and we are also told that the bear sheds tears when it comes to a consciousness of its last hour. The giraffe is not less sensitive and regards with tearful eyes the hunter who has wounded it. This animal also weeps through downright nostalgia. Dogs also are held to be lachrymose, and the same holds in the case of certain monkeys. Sparman states the elephant sheds tears when wounded or when it perceives that it cannot escape.

Aquatic animals, too, it appears, are able to weep. Thus, many authorities agree, dolphins at the moment of death draw deep sighs and shed tears abundantly. A young female seal was observed to weep when teased by a sailor. St. Hilaire and Currier recount, on the authority of the Malays, that when a young dugong is captured the mother is sure to be taken also.

The little ones then cry out and shed tears. These tears are collected with great care by the Malays and are preserved as a charm that is certain to render a lover's affection lasting.—

New York Press.

A PROPHETIC JEWEL.

Peculiar Ring That Was Owned by Marquise du Barry.

Marquise du Barry, whose lovely head fell into the basket beneath the guillotine in expiation of her levity, extravagance and folly, had in her possession a stone of which the Paris jewelers were unable to tell the precise nature.

There appeared upon it below the surface and as if under water an outline of a picture containing human figures. Strange to relate, when first the gem was given to its afterward unfortunate possessor this outline was not clear, but after it had been some months in her possession it grew more vivid.

One day the negro servant boy, Lamor, who was afterward instrumental from revenge in the downfall of the du Barry, declared, looking at the jewel, that he could decipher the figure of a woman with disheveled hair leaning before a scaffold and surrounded by a crowd, while beside her stood the executioner.

SONOMA INDEX-TRIBUNE

Sonoma, November 12, 1910.

H. H. GRANICE, Editor.

AN EXPLODED THEORY

For a long series of years much discussion has been had as to what effect the denudation of our forests has upon the drying up of streams, the failure of wells and the exhaustion of reservoirs. It has been believed in scientific circles that there is an intimate relation of cause and effect between the denudation of our forest area and the supposed decrease of rainfall and the increase in the severity and number of floods during the rainy season.

The Scientific American, in commenting on this fallacy, says there has recently been issued from the Government Printing Office at Washington a report by Willis L. Moore, chief of the Weather Bureau, on the "Influence of Forests on Climate and Floods," in which the astounding fact is stated, and proved by statistics, that, so far as the records of this bureau throw light upon the subject, forests have no effect either upon the amount of rainfall, or upon the severity of floods. The report is rendered the more significant by Mr. Moore's statement at the outset that he himself originally believed that the cutting away of forests to some extent affected the flow of the streams, and that it is the careful study of his own and other records of rainfall and floods that has caused him to change his opinion.

The records of precipitation of the United States Weather Bureau fail to show any appreciable permanent decrease in the rainfall of any section of the United States. One of the best and longest records of precipitation is that made at New Bedford, Mass., by Mr. Samuel Rodman and his son, covering the period from 1814 to 1908; and an investigation of this shows that for the first fifty years, from 1814 to 1864, the average annual rainfall at that point was about 46 inches while during the last 45 years the annual fall has increased to more than 47 inches. This indicates that in spite of the deforestation which has taken place there has been a slight increase, rather than decrease in precipitation.

Mr. Moore's attitude to the question of deforestation is given in the following extract from his report:—

"In every country the general tendency, with growth of population, is to convert forest lands into cultivated fields, and this tendency should not be discouraged unless it can be shown that deforestation has augmented droughts and floods, and I believe that it cannot be shown. I believe that forests should be preserved for themselves alone or not at all; . . . there can be no valid objection to decreasing the area where homes and a well-fed people take the place of wild animals and wilderness."

Sonoma Boy Makes Good

Fred. Stevenot, an old time Sonoma boy, who left here for Calaveras county, ten or fifteen years ago, was elected a member of the Assembly from that county on the Republican ticket at the recent election.

A Good Position

Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or Railway telegraphy. Since the 8-hour law became effective, and since the wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month, with good chance for advancement. The National Telegraph Institute of Portland, Ore., operates six official institutes in America, under supervision of R. R. and Wireless Officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write for full details.

Reiterated.

Edmund Kean was playing in "Richard III." and the part of Catesby had to be taken by a low comedian, who sauntered on to the stage at the wrong moment and uttered the famous words, "My lord, the Duke of Buckingham is taken," in the wrong place. Edmund clinched his fists in rage, but otherwise took no notice of the remark.

Later the comedian repeated the words in the right place, and when the king expressed surprise at the news Catesby folded his arms, walked boldly down the stage and remarked to the great actor in loud tones: "I told you so before, Mr. Kean, but you wouldn't believe me."

Of Course Not.

If a man really loves a woman of course he wouldn't marry her for the world if he were not quite sure he was the best person she could by any possibility marry.—Holmes.

Games were played and a general good time was enjoyed by all. Refreshments were served at a little table arranged for the occasion. Those present were:—Virginia and Mannie Pomeroy, Harold, Donald, Vesta and Countess Prestwood, Mildred and Clifford Ericson, Roy Bill, Zoe Castex, Lillian Beyer, Evelyn Peterson, Cecilia Regussi, Ellis Simmons, Flora Ayers, Lillie Luhrs, Erma Adler and Gordon Bordon. Gladys Simmons, Mina Colton and Enid Harris assisted in entertaining the little folks.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. SAD DEATH OF A WIFE AND MOTHERMrs. Richard Evans Expires at the Broadway Sanitarium Wednesday Afternoon.

Mrs. Jennie Gaines Evans, wife of Richard Evans of the Sonoma State Home, Eldridge, died very unexpectedly at the Broadway sanitarium Wednesday afternoon, following a capital operation which she underwent the previous Monday. The immediate cause of death was a weak heart, which failed to respond following the operation to save her life.

Mrs. Evans was born in this county thirty-eight years ago and spent most of her girlhood days here. She was a true wife and good mother and her sudden death was a great shock to the entire community.

The deceased leaves a husband and a son and daughter to mourn her sad taking off. Mrs. George Breitenbach of this place is a sister and Mr. Clark Gaines of Glen Ellen a brother of the deceased.

The funeral will take place today at 1:30 p. m. from the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Breitenbach on Broadway. The interment will be in Mountain cemetery.

Political Notes

Bell carried this county by 193 plurality over Johnson.

Juilliard's majority over Price for State Senator is 939.

Kent is elected Congressman over Zumwalt by a majority of about 2500.

Glen E. Murdock's majority in the county was 2464, the largest of any of the candidates.

Clarence F. Lea, candidate for District Attorney, received a majority of 2081 votes over Wm. Early.

Herbert Slater is now a rising young statesman. His majority over Weske for Assemblyman of the Fourteenth district is 373.

Wilson, the Socialistic candidate for Governor received 847 votes in this county. Ten of these votes were polled in the Sonoma precinct.

Supervisors Green of Petaluma and Patterson of Healdsburg were re-elected and the Board will remain as it was before the election—three Republicans and two Democrats.

Jas. Campbell has been elected Justice of the Peace of Sonoma Township, anyhow, and he will now be able to make good his boast of "throwing his hooks" into some of our people when he gets into office.

The official returns give Miss Barnes a lead of 54 votes over DeWitt Montgomery for School Superintendent. For one whole day it was supposed the latter had won out, but returns from a number of remote precincts turned the tide in favor of Miss Barnes, who has won out without a doubt.

Erank E. Dowd came within an ace of being defeated for County Assessor by his Republican opponent, Clawson. His majority is 173 only. This is the fourth time Mr. Dowd has been elected to his position by the help of his Republican friends who recognize in him one of the best Assessors in the State.

Given Sixty Days for Indecent Exposure.

A man giving the name of Wm. Lennon, a stranger here, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Joe F. Ryan last Saturday and charged with indecent exposure. The accused was taken before Judge Small and pleading guilty was sentenced to serve sixty days in the county jail. Officer Ryan took the offender to Santa Rosa Saturday afternoon to serve out his sentence.

Board of Supervisors in November Session

The Board of Supervisors met on Monday at the Court House in regular monthly session. All members were present and the regular routine of allowing salary claims and other bills were taken up.

A petition was received during the day asking to have repealed the county ordinance prohibiting seining in the streams. As there is considerable opposition to the repeal a hearing was set for Friday morning at 10 o'clock when both sides may present their case and argue it before the Board. It is safe to say that there will be an interesting session on that day.

At the close of the day's session an adjournment was taken until Wednesday to allow Supervisors Green and Patterson, who are candidates for re-election, to be at home on Tuesday in order to vote and look after their political interests.

BATTLE OF BALLOTS
FOR COUNTY OFFICESRepublicans Win Out on Most of Their NomineesBut Lose Senator and One AssemblymanThe Democrats Elect Lea, Dowd, Pool and Miss Florence
Barnes

The result of Tuesday's election in this county did not surprise those familiar with the political situation here. It was apparent from the start that Bell would defeat Johnson for Governor and that the Republican nominee for the State Senate, Walter F. Price and H. W. A. Weske, for the Assembly, would have a close shave, for insurgency was in the air. There was one surprise, however, and that was the defeat of DeWitt Montgomery for School Superintendent by Miss Florence Barnes of Healdsburg, who won by 54 majority. The election of Clarence Lea for the District Attorneyship and Chas. A. Pool for Auditor, were foregone conclusions as both had made splendid officials and were supported by Republicans all over the county besides having the united strength of their party behind them.

The following were the successful candidates:

State Senator—L. W. Juilliard, D.

Assemblymen—Herbert Slater, D; J. W. Hamilton, R.

Sheriff—J. K. Smith, R.

District Attorney—Clarence F. Lea, D.

County Clerk—W. W. Felt, Jr., R.

Auditor—Chas. A. Pool, D.

Treasurer—Glen E. Murdock, R.

Assessor—Frank E. Dowd, D.

Tax Collector—F. M. Collins, R.

Recorder—F. G. Nagle, R.

Supt. of Schools—Florence M. Barnes, D.

Coroner—F. L. Blackburn, D.

Surveyor—Geo. H. Winkler, R.

Trout Fishing in Sonoma Creek

It is not generally known, but it is nevertheless a fact known to many of our local fishermen, that Sonoma Creek affords excellent sport the first two weeks in November if during that period or just preceding it there be an ordinary rainfall. This has been demonstrated the past few days following the rain of last Tuesday and a large number of trout have been landed, measuring from eight to twelve inches in length. Tuesday afternoon last Wm. Fowler caught eighteen of the speckled beauties in Sonoma Creek between the iron bridge at the foot of Napa street and Agua Caliente.

The stork visited the home of Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Leix on Monday night and left a bouncing baby boy. The youngster's birthday falls on the same date as that of the doctor.

A large delegation of young voters of this city attended the Bell meeting in Napa Monday evening. The carry-all of the Union Stables with four horses attached and Joe Ryan holding the ribbons took over twenty of the young Democratic bloods and the balance made the trip in automobiles. The vehicles were attractively decorated and attracted much attention.

A BRILLIANT
SOCIAL EVENT

Reception Tendered Mr. and Mrs.

Fred T. Duhring on Friday

Evening of Last Week the

Talk of the Valley

The reception tendered Mr. and Mrs. Fred. T. Duhring by Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Ryland at their home, "Pine Lodge," on Friday evening of last week, was one of the most brilliant social events that has taken place in this city for years.

It was a full dress function and the gowns worn by the ladies were both beautiful and costly.

One hundred guests were present and participated in the festivities.

The reception rooms were strikingly decorated with branches of live oak, the doors and stairway being wreathed with the same. Great jars holding huge masses of yellow, pink and white crysanthemums converted the spacious rooms into a perfect fairyland. A profusion of incandescent lamps added to the brilliancy of the scene.

The refreshments, consisting of oyster patties, various sorts of sandwiches, ice cream, cake and coffee were in charge of a cook from the Century Club of San Francisco, assisted by a number of local helpers.

The occasion was the twenty-fifth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Duhring.

The Piano Contest.

The piano contest being conducted at Eastland's Yellow Front drug store will close December 25th. This has been one of the most interesting and enthusiastic contests ever held here, and as the time draws near for its close the interest which has never abated since it was inaugurated last spring, is keener now than ever. The principal contestants for the prize are the friends of Presentation Convent and Verdant Rebekah Lodge of this place. But six weeks remain in which to compete for the piano, which is a beautiful and costly instrument.

The reception accorded Theodore Bell by the people of this city Monday afternoon amounted to an ovation.

The Bell party arrived in town in automobiles at 4 o'clock and were greeted with wild cheers, exploding bombs, martial music and waving banners, and now that the election is over and without fear of being accused of handing out campaign dope for partizan purposes, must confess it was one of the biggest and most sincere receptions ever accorded any candidate in the old town.

After the greetings were over the crowd wended its way into Union Hall, which was soon filled to the very doors, to listen to an hour's address by the Democratic leader, who was frequently interrupted with wild bursts of applause.

The meeting was called to order by County Committeeman Cummings who introduced A. Froment as its presiding officer. The latter after a neat but necessarily brief speech, presented Mr. Bell to the audience, which was composed largely of ladies.

When Mr. Bell made his bow he was greeted with tumultuous applause and cheering which continued throughout his address which was a masterful effort and made glad the hearts of the untrified.

Friday evening, Nov. 18th, at 8 p. m. the lecture will be delivered in the Union Hall by Pastor Loken of Berkeley on "Wealth and Commonwealth on the Pacific." No admission fee will be charged.

Result in Second Congressional District.

Complete returns in the Second Congressional District assure the election of Wm. Kent by at least 2,500 majority over Zumwalt, his Democratic competitor. Had the latter been properly supported by the Democrats of his district he would have been successful, as thousands of Republicans voted against Kent, the arrived nominee of the Lincoln Roosevelt Benedict Arnold League. The majorities in the various counties, with a few small precincts to hear from, are as follows:

County	Kent	Zumwalt
Colusa	519
Butte	84
Glenn	113
Lake	174
Marin	1427
Mendocino	250
Sacramento	844
Sonoma	723
Yolo	234
Yuba	133

Totals.....3502 1099

CALIFORNIA AHEAD OF LOUISIANA

Bank Statistics Show That It Outclasses Southern Rival

"With no desire to lay bare a rival's hard circumstances, but to ascertain definitely the relative and comparative ability of California and Louisiana, and of San Francisco and New Orleans, the California exposition committee has been looking into the banking figures of the two States and two cities," says the San Francisco Call. "The showing is tremendously against Louisiana and New Orleans."

"Herewith are some items that ought to tell heavily as financial resources for San Francisco. They are taken from the report of the National Monetary Commission and relate almost wholly to conditions on April 28, 1909. 'That they are exact and authentic there can be no question."

"The results of the comparison are striking. For example, with comparatively equal populations, California has four dollars of banking resources to Louisiana's one. The savings deposits of the States are 13 to 1 in California's favor, ranking California fourth in the Union in this respect and Louisiana twenty-fourth."

"San Francisco's 200,000 savings depositors have $154,000,000 tucked away; New Orleans shows 55,000 such depositors with only $17,000,000 laid up against that rainy day. San Francisco's savings banks paid their pass-book holders in interest in the year covered by the report upward of $5,000,000; New Orleans savings depositors in the same period were credited with a little more than a quarter of a million."

"According to the report of the Comptroller of the Currency, the national banks of San Francisco increased their total resources $103,000,000 in the year 1909-10; New Orleans national banks increased a little more than $2,000,000."

Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 52 is the one that affects the whole State. It provides for a $5,000,000 tax, to be raised in four years' time, at a rate of less than 5 cents on the hundred. San Francisco, with its high property values, will itself pay more than one-fourth of this State tax. This leaves but three-fourths to be paid by the people outside of San Francisco. This proposition will be worth more to all California and to you personally than all the public projects ever contemplated in California before. Bring the world to California, and conduct the world through California in 1915 by voting for Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 52 and Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 33.

Missouri benefited to the extent of $50,000,000 in NEW capital invested the year following the World's Fair at St. Louis. It is estimated that the fair put $150 into the pocket of every Missourian, and that for every year since the fair $75 is being garnered by every Missourian in increased values, better conditions and prosperity. It is worth your while to vote for Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 52 and Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 33.

It is estimated that Americans traveling and visiting European countries, spend two hundred million dollars a year. An International Exposition in California to celebrate the completion of the Panama canal will bring to this State more than two hundred million dollars. Vote for Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 52 and Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 33.

Only the citizens of San Francisco will have to pay for Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 33. It is merely the permission for San Francisco to bond herself for $5,000,000, but the permission must be granted by the whole State. That is why it is presented to you. San Francisco's citizens are anxious to vote those bonds, so vote for Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 33.

If you pay taxes on an assessment of $1000 your share of the exposition State tax will be 50 cents per year for four years. The exposition will bring millions of dollars and thousands of men and women to California. Is that worth $2 to you and to the $1000 you have ready for increase. Your $2 will make your $1000 worth $2000. Vote for Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 52 and Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 33.

California has expended millions to display her famous products in Eastern cities and abroad. Now it is proposed to bring the world to meet California. The proposed exposition in 1915 will bring many thousands of leading men to this Coast. Substantial gains in population and enhanced value of farming lands will surely follow the exposition. Vote for Senate Amendment No. 52 and Assembly Amendment No. 33 in support of the exposition.

The proposed exposition in 1915 to celebrate the completion of the Panama canal will stimulate every material industry in California. Every section will receive direct benefit from the investment of fifty million dollars in this State. Vote for Senate Amendment No. 52 and Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 33 in support of the exposition.

Thackeray's Satire.
Thackeray created quite erroneous impressions of himself by often indulging in irony in the presence of people who were incapable of understanding it. One curious instance which he gave was this: Thackeray had been dining at the Garrick and was talking in the smoking room after dinner with various club acquaintances. One of them happening to have left his cigar case at home, Thackeray, though disliking the man, who was a notorious tuft hunter, good naturedly offered him one of his cigars. The man accepted the cigar, but, not finding it to his liking, had the bad taste to say to Thackeray, "I say, Thackeray, you won't mind my saying, I don't think much of this cigar?" Thackeray, no doubt irritated at the man's ungraciousness and bearing in mind his tuft hunting predilections, quietly responded, "You ought to, my good fellow, for it was given me by a lord." Instead, however, of detecting the irony, the dolt immediately attributed the remark to snobishness on Thackeray's part and to the end of his days went about declaring that "Thackeray had boasted that he had been given a cigar by a lord."

Maternal Instinct.
"Children that yell like that ought either to be gagged or kept at home," remarked the irascible gentleman with the white beard to the bus conductor. "And faces like the one you're scaring people with," chipped in the mother of the noisy infant, "oughter be made into door knockers or sent ter the chamber o' horrors."
The gentleman with the patriarchal face frowned a brick red complexion. "I know it's awkward at times," he commenced.
"It's more'n awkward; it's nothin' short o' terrible," snapped the lady, as she once more glanced at the sorry elderly man's set of features.
When the rest of the passengers tittered audibly the old gentleman came to the conclusion that it behooved him to speak to the point.
"I mean the child," he tried once more.
"And you didn't mean it no' good," returned the lady, "else you wouldn't a looked at it."—London Ideas.

The Expense of a Wife.
A wife is a decided addition to the demands upon one's purse. In that sense, however sensible and managing she may be, she is expensive. But everything worth having has its price of one sort or another, and there are some things which cost much without which life is hardly worth living. Said Thiers: "Most men contemplate making some self denial when they marry. They think they will give up such and such expensive pleasures. Later on, when they discover that they cannot do so, and at the same time they lack the means to indulge, they complain that it is the extravagance of their wives which causes the inconvenience."
Which wise saying is applicable to men in other countries besides that of France.—New York American.
